The Pace School of Performing Arts invites applications for an anticipated full time Lecturer position (non-tenure track) in Movement and Physical Acting in its BA in Acting and Directing programs to begin September 2015. The position is at the University’s campus in lower Manhattan, NYC.

Applicants should have an M.F.A. in Acting/ Directing or B.F.A. in Dance with experience or specialty in related fields, such as physical acting, movement, ensemble based work. The ideal candidate should have teaching experience in higher education plus substantial professional acting/ directing/choreography credentials. Candidates should be able to teach a range of physical acting & movement styles and methodologies and support collaborative interactions between faculty, staff and students. Responsibilities will include teaching physical acting and movement related classes; collaborating with faculty to track and identify each student’s needs; contributions to areas of scholarship/ creative service in the field; and service to the BA Acting Program and Pace School of Performing Arts.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy plus contact information for 3 references by email to: lolson@pace.edu (Lindsay Olson) Attn: Cosmin Chivu, Acting Search Committee. Review of applications will begin immediately but all applications received by January 30th will receive full consideration.

Pace University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, women, veterans and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.