The Art Department faculty are dedicated teachers with distinguished records as practicing artists and scholars. Pace faculty have taught at Yale, Columbia, NYU, Parsons, Rhode Island School of Design, Cooper Union, Pratt, and the School of Visual Arts. The studio faculty have participated in various professional art exhibitions, including solo exhibitions both in New York City as well as internationally. Individual faculty members have exhibited their work at the Whitney Museum, PS1/MOMA, and the Getty Museum. The faculty have received major public art commissions, and numerous state, national, and international awards for their work.

Exhibition: March 3rd- April 2nd
Opening: March 3rd, 5-7 PM

"Art in Fashion"
Featuring Helen Oji, Creative, Inspiration and Research Director at Eileen Fischer and digital artists Charley Pardon, who works in the world of high end fashion photography. Join us for a discussion about careers in the arts and breaking into the fashion and art world. Presentations with informal Q&A to follow. All students welcome!

6:15-7:45 PM
Bianco Room
Ground Floor, 1 Pace Plaza

Art Majors and Minors show off their best work produced during the 2014-2015 year.

To be included in the exhibition:
Submit one artwork to the Art Office before April 3rd. Must be an Art Major or Minor to be included.

Questions about majoring and minoring in Art, see an Art Dept. advisor in the office.

Exhibition: April 7th - April 17th
Opening: April 7th, 5-7 PM

The following topics will be covered:
• Career opportunities in the field of art history
• Internships in museums, art galleries, and auction houses
• Graduate programs and how to prepare for them
• Cover letter and résumé writing
• Job advertisements in the fields related to art history: teaching, publishing, work in museums, galleries, and the art market
• Services offered to students and alumni by the Pace Career Services Department

4:30 - 6:00 PM
Resource Room
Career Services Department
41 Park Row, 14th Floor

Surface Tension
Robert Goodman’s paintings depict saturated, extensive, expanding, dangerous, and exciting spaces that imply both the landscape and the human body. Bold colors and sharp graphic lines suggest dynamic movement and formal integrity but the intricately, delicacy, and scale of these small marks undermines the certainty and authority of those gestures. This overwhelming detail elicits a physical response to the work that is delivered optically. Like Baroque or Rococo works, these paintings disorient through an indulgence in excess

Exhibition: February 10th - February 25th
Opening: February 10th, 5-7 PM

Gallery Talk with the artist
February 11th, 1:30 PM
Fingesten Gallery
B-Level, 1 Pace Plaza

Check out new Paintings, films, photographs, sculptures, graphic design and more produced by advanced level Pace art students.

Faculty Advisor: Prof. Jillian McDonald

Exhibition: April 28th - May 7th
Opening: April 28th, 5-7 PM

Located in Lower Manhattan just south of the Brooklyn Bridge
• F S 6 to Brooklyn Bridge/City Hall
• R to City Hall/Broadway
• A C E / J 2 3 to Broadway Nassau/Fulton St.

All openings:
The Fingesten Gallery
B-Level, 1 Pace Plaza
Free and open to all students & the public

For gallery hours and information please contact | info at: finearts@pace.edu | Call: 212 346 1894