The Dyson College of Arts and Sciences of Pace University invites applications for an anticipated position of Chair of the Department of Political Science to begin September 2015. Appointment will be at the Associate or Full Professor level with tenure. The position is at the Pace University campus in lower Manhattan, NYC. Applicants should have an earned PhD in a relevant field (e.g., Political Science, Global Studies, Area Studies, Peace and Justice Studies, International Relations, Government, Public Administration, Public Policy, etc.) with demonstrated expertise and familiarity with at least one major subfield of the political science discipline, an excellent record of teaching, research and service, and a record of leadership and administration. The Chair is an initial three-year appointment, renewable by election by the Department.

The Political Science major is one of the largest in the university. This department enjoys a long history of achievements in innovative co-curricular enrichment activities, service learning, civic engagement, collaborative research between professors and with students, and fellowships, graduate school admissions, and career advancement for graduates.

Duties and responsibilities include: working in a shared governance environment, modeling collegiality and collaboration; articulating a clear, compelling, and inclusive vision for the department’s future; leading a diverse and growing team of faculty and staff; cultivating a welcoming environment for diversity; valuing the interests, abilities, and perspectives of all faculty; strengthening the department’s ties with the rest of university and professional community; performing departmental administration in an efficient, highly competent, fair, and transparent manner; demonstrating and modeling a record of excellence in scholarship, teaching, and service; mentoring tenured and tenure-track full time faculty.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statements of teaching philosophy and research interests, and contact information for three references to pdachille@pace.edu.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled; applications received by January 30, 2015 are guaranteed full consideration.
