CONFLICT EXAMS

Students who have (3) scheduled final exam the same time or more exams overlapping with a work shite need to contact their instructor before December 15th, 2008. Instructors are responsible for coming to a resolution. Examinations are scheduled for the final examination period, December 15, 2008, through December 19, 2008, inclusive, unless otherwise specified. Students should consult their instructors for any exam conflicts prior to December 15, 2008.

FILING DEADLINE: Before December 12, 2008

DEFERRED EXAMS

Students are permitted to take a deferred examination within the approval of their instructor and the Dean of Students. Only one deferred examination will be permitted per student per semester. Please consult your instructor for all other exceptional circumstances. Students who have a legitimate reason to request a deferred examination should submit a written request to their instructor. A student's written request should be submitted to the office of the dean of students for final approval. Examinations are scheduled for the final examination period, December 15, 2008, through December 19, 2008, inclusive, unless otherwise specified. The final exam is free of charge and must be taken no later than the dates listed below. The students must also request a deferred exam from the office of the dean of their school.

FILING DEADLINE: January 3, 2009

FINishing EXAmS

The following courses are eligible for deferred exams: Public Administration, University Studies, and Business Administration. The final exam is free of charge and must be taken no later than the dates listed below. The students must also request a deferred exam from the office of the dean of their school.

FILING DEADLINE: January 3, 2009

FINishing EXAmS

The following courses are eligible for deferred exams: Public Administration, University Studies, and Business Administration. The final exam is free of charge and must be taken no later than the dates listed below. The students must also request a deferred exam from the office of the dean of their school.

FILING DEADLINE: January 3, 2009

FINishing EXAmS

The following courses are eligible for deferred exams: Public Administration, University Studies, and Business Administration. The final exam is free of charge and must be taken no later than the dates listed below. The students must also request a deferred exam from the office of the dean of their school.

FILING DEADLINE: January 3, 2009

FINishing EXAmS

The following courses are eligible for deferred exams: Public Administration, University Studies, and Business Administration. The final exam is free of charge and must be taken no later than the dates listed below. The students must also request a deferred exam from the office of the dean of their school.

FILING DEADLINE: January 3, 2009

FINishing EXAmS

The following courses are eligible for deferred exams: Public Administration, University Studies, and Business Administration. The final exam is free of charge and must be taken no later than the dates listed below. The students must also request a deferred exam from the office of the dean of their school.

FILING DEADLINE: January 3, 2009

FINishing EXAmS

The following courses are eligible for deferred exams: Public Administration, University Studies, and Business Administration. The final exam is free of charge and must be taken no later than the dates listed below. The students must also request a deferred exam from the office of the dean of their school.