

Environmental Fellows Roundtable

John Cronin

Janisse Ray

Andrew Revkin

Monday, Nov. 1, 2010 (PLV Campus)

Where Activism Meets Technological Innovation: The Challenge of Environmental Problem Solving

5:30pm – 6:15pm Reception in Choate House Gallery (Pace Community)

6:30pm – 8:00pm Roundtable in Butcher Suite, Kessel Student Center

Advocacy and technology have each played a part in our environmental successes and failures to date, but to what degree should each be leveraged as we face new environmental challenges? Has advocacy lost its way? Is technology a blessing, curse, or both? This roundtable discussion will explore the relative value of advocacy and technology as well the notion that a union of the two may be our only way forward.

Speakers: John Cronin, Senior Fellow for Environmental Affairs, Pace University
Janisse Ray, Woodrow Wilson Visiting Fellow, Writer, Naturalist, Activist
Andrew C. Revkin, Senior Fellow for Environmental Understanding, Pace University

Welcome by: Nira Herrmann, Dean, Dyson College of Arts and Sciences, Pace University

Moderated by: Michelle D. Land, Director, Pace Academy for Applied Environmental Studies

RSVP: paceacademy@pace.edu or 914-422-4077 by Wednesday, Oct. 27th

Co-sponsors Pace Academy for Applied Environmental Studies
Dyson College of Arts and Sciences
Center for Community Action and Research

Janisse Ray will be in residence at Pace Academy for Applied Environmental Studies from Nov. 1-5, 2010 through the Council of Independent Colleges Woodrow Wilson Visiting Fellow Program. For full schedule visit www.pace.edu/academy.