

The Amelia A. Gould Children’s Health Program Fund at the College of Health Professions, Pace University

Thanks to the generous gift of The Amelia A. Gould Revocable Trust (and in addition to the CHP Scholarship Fund and the Endowed Professorship for the PhD in Nursing program), The Amelia A. Gould Children's Health Program Fund was established in 2020.

Description: The fund will support programmatic initiatives and student clinical experiences, with a focus on international experiences, aimed at advancing healthcare and the general welfare of children. Students of all College of Health Professions programs will be encouraged to participate in these initiatives, including nursing, physician assistant studies, nutrition and dietetics, communication sciences and disorders, occupational therapy, and health science.

The following initiative is funded under this program:

Scholarships for Global clinical rotation or study abroad experience
