

Weather events are closely monitored by the University.

In the event of a campus-wide weather related emergency, a Pace University emergency alert will be sent.

The alert will be sent to provide information regarding preparedness, response activities, and campus or building closures and/or class cancellations.

How to prepare for severe weather:

-  Stay informed - listen to the news & learn how this event may affect you.
-  Have a go-bag in your place of work & home, including a working flashlight.
-  Stock up on non-perishable food and water.

Actions to take during severe weather emergency:

-  Report any injury to 911 or Pace University Security.
-  Report any campus building/property damage or hazard to Facilities.
-  Avoid unnecessary travel & remain indoors, if possible.
-  Remove loose items, objects, or supplies from windows and window sills.
-  Do not use unnecessary electronic devices, which may cause a power outage.

You can dial 777 or press the Security button from any Pace phone in an emergency.
