TEACHING INTERESTS

Immigration Law, Health & Disability Law, Constitutional Law, Criminal Law, Prison Law

RESEARCH INTERESTS

My research interests focus on the treatment of those with mental health disabilities in our current immigration system, and the need for more robust accommodations to ensure due process and equitable treatment. I am also interested in how “consent” can be achieved where a mentally or cognitively impaired person is in ICE custody and in need of medical treatment, intervention, or care. Finally, I have increasingly focused my research to how racial justice must be at the center of immigrant justice if we hope to achieve meaningful reform.

OTHER PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE, Falls Church, VA 2016 – 2018

Assistant Program Director, Attorney Advisor

Managed the National Qualified Representative Program (NQRP) for the Executive Office for Immigration Review, which provided defense counsel to detained, pro se, mentally incompetent non-citizens appearing before the immigration courts. Trained new immigration judges. Conducted site-visits to courts and detention centers throughout the United States to ensure compliance with the class action settlement Franco-Gonzalez v. Holder, No. 10-CV-. 02211 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 23, 2013).

AMERICAN FRIENDS SERVICE COMMITTEE, Newark, NJ 2010 - 2016

Lead Detention Attorney

Engineered and supervised a universal representation program at the detained Elizabeth Immigration Court. Supervised a team of Detention Attorneys, support staff, and social workers. Represented detained respondents in their removal proceedings before the immigration courts in Elizabeth, NJ, Newark, NJ, and New York, NY. Served as appointed counsel for detained respondents who were adjudicated “mentally incompetent” by an immigration judge. Provided training, support and mentorship to law students, new attorneys, and pro bono attorneys on substantive legal issues.

DAVIDSON & SCHILLER, LLC, Chicago, IL 2005 - 2010

Immigration Attorney

Represented detained and non-detained immigrants in all stages of deportation proceedings before the immigration court. Represented individuals in all actions before the United States Citizenship and Immigration Service (USCIS), including family reunification and humanitarian waivers of inadmissibility.
