Once you find a book listed in the “Books & Media” tool, how do you find it on the shelf?

If the book is listed as being in the Stacks it means the book is on the second floor, and you can retrieve it yourself. To find the book on the shelf, you will need the Call Number. Call numbers look something like this: TD885.5.G73 V53 2011

At Pace (and most university libraries) we use Library of Congress call numbers, which means all of our books are organized by subject. If you find a book you're interested in and realize you need to find more, you can browse to the rest of the books on the shelf and they'll all be about a similar topic. Call numbers are alphanumeric in order, for example:
