

CAN WE TALK? SEXUAL ORIENTATION & GENDER

A Conversation with Parents, Students, & Their Families

This informal workshop will provide parents, students, and families with a space and opportunity to talk about sexual orientation and/or gender, ask questions, listen to other people's stories, learn from others in similar situations and build and increase support networks.

We want to be there for our child.

Did we do something wrong?

What do I tell my friends and family?

How can we support our child?

This is against my religion.

What about HIV/AIDS?

Maybe it's just a phase.

We want our child to be happy.

I'm worried about my child's safety.

This will make life harder for my child.

Why would my child choose this?

We want our child to know we love them.

I just learned about my child's sexual orientation. I feel lost...

Sexual Orientation, Pronouns, Queer, Transgender, Cisgender, Pansexual, Asexual: it is all so confusing!
