

Tiffany Hamilton

PACE NAMES FIRST CHIEF DIVERSITY OFFICER

Tiffany Hamilton has been appointed Pace University's first chief diversity officer by President Marvin Krislov.

The former associate dean for diversity, equity and inclusion at Westchester Community College, Hamilton, a Stamford, Connecticut, resident, will supervise the Affirmative Action Office and Title IX coordinator, the LGBTQA and Social Justice Center, the Multicultural Affairs offices and the offices of sexual assault prevention and education. Working with enrollment management, student affairs, human resources and other departments at its New York City and Pleasantville campuses, Hamilton will also ensure that Pace implements best practices for recruitment and retention of students, faculty and staff.