

Journal of Beat Studies

Volume 2, 2013

	vi	Letter from the Editors
Tony Trigilio	1	“On a Confrontation at a Buddhist Seminary’: Naropa, Guru Devotion, and a Poetics of Resistance”
John Whalen-Bridge	31	Trungpa, Naropa, and the Outrider Road An Interview with Anne Waldman
Davis Schneiderman	53	The Miraculous and Mucilaginous Paste Pot: Extra-illustration and Plagiarism in the Burroughs Legacy
Rob Johnson	81	Did Beatniks Kill John F. Kennedy?
<hr/> REVIEWS <hr/>
Cary Nelson	101	Jack Kerouac: Collected Poems . Edited by Marilène Phipps-Kettlewell.
Terrence Diggory	113	Postliterary America: From Bagel Shop Jazz to Micropoetries by Maria Damon
Jennie Skerl	118	Rub Out the Words: The Letters of William S. Burroughs 1959-1974 . by Nancy M. Grace
Fiona Paton	123	The Voice Is All: the Lonely Victory of Jack Kerouac by Joyce Johnson

Nancy M. Grace

129 The Philosophy of the Beats edited by Sharin
N. Elkholy and Survey of the Field

141 The Beat Review Index

150 Contributor's Notes

152 Essay Abstracts