

The entire Pace University community shares the concern that our campuses be safe and secure.

See something.
Say something.

You should be alert to suspicious situations and promptly report threatening, violent, Or criminal behavior to Pace University Security.

Recognizing a Suspicious Person:

Person exhibiting unusual mental or physical behavior.

Someone talking to themselves (muttering).

Person running & doesn't appear to be exercising.

Someone tampering with or forcing entry into a building or vehicle.

Someone with "tunnel vision" (staring at you continuously/inappropriately).

Repeatedly pacing back & forth.

Handling a Suspicious Person:

Trust your instincts; if you remain suspicious of the person & feel threatened, call Pace Security or 911.

After calling, provide as much information as possible on the person's description and their direction of travel.

Do not physically confront the person.

Do not block the person's access to an exit.

Do not let unknown individual into a locked building or office.

Lock offices and residence hall rooms when unattended.

Do not prop doors open or allow persons to "tailgate" into buildings.
